Ike Pledges To Guard Freedom Of West Berlin

U.S. Responsibility Reaffirmed; Dulles, President Confer

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Communist-threatened West Berlin has a new pledge from President Eisenhower that its freedom will be safeguarded by the United States.

The pledge that the United States intends to meet that responsibility, shared by Britain and France, was reaffirmed by the President after he and Secretary of State Dulles discussed the Berlin situation at an hour-long conference Sunday.

They talked at the Augusta National Golf Club as Eisenhower made plans to end his working vacation Tuesday and fly back to Washington. His 13-day visit started Nov. 20.

Back in the capital the President will face the task of completing the legislative program and the federal budget he will send to the new Congress in January.

Discussed Countermeasures

Eisenhower and Dulles almost certainly discussed countermeasures the Western Allies plan to take to keep the Soviet Union from dominating West Berlin. But they kept mum afterward about the strategy.

In a brief statement after the meeting Dulles said: "The President reiterated our government's firm purpose that the United States will not enter into any arrangement or embark on any course of conduct which would have the effect of abandoning the responsibilities which the United States, with Great Britain and France, has formally assumed for the freedom and security of the people of West Berlin."

That in effect was a fresh rejection of the Soviet Union's Thanksgiving Day proposal for creation of a demilitarized "free" city of West Berlin. Moscow at the same time declared void the four-power occupation agreement for Berlin which was reached after World War II.

The Soviet note on its plan gave the western powers six months to enter into negotiation for establishment of a free city. The Russians added that failure to do so would put the plan into effect automatically at the end of that period.

The swift U.S. reaction was that Russia was proposing to keep its grip on East Berlin and have the western allies abandon their rights in West Berlin.

The State Department said the end result of the plan would be to surrender West Berlin to hostile domination.

Two Persons Are Hurt In Road Mishaps

Two persons were injured and two arrested in four area road mishaps investigated by state highway patrolmen over the weekend.

George Jones, 12, of Glenmore, rode his sled into the path of a car driven by George Barton, 33, of East Liverpool on county road 424, four miles northwest of East Liverpool, at 4:07 p.m. Sunday.

The boy was taken to East Liverpool City Hospital with a fractured left arm, patrolmen said. He is in fairly good condition.

A car driven by William Crabtree, 48, of East Liverpool went off the right side of Grimses Bridge Road, about one mile north of Calcutta, and overturned at 9:20 p.m. Sunday, patrolmen said.

Crabtree was taken to East Liverpool City Hospital with possible rib fractures and a mouth injury. His condition is reported good.

An auto driven by Carl Hawk, 27, of Parma struck the rear of a car operated by Jack Gloeckner, 21, of East Liverpool on Rt. 7, one and a half miles north of Wells-ville, at 9 a.m. Sunday, patrolmen said.

Gloeckner was arrested for making an improper left turn.

Patrolmen said cars driven by Esther Whitacre, 33, of Lisbon and Ned Dowd, 54, of Lisbon collided on Rt. 45, two miles north of Lisbon, at 3:40 p.m. Sunday.

Miss Whitacre was arrested for driving left of center, patrolmen said.

LAYING STRATEGY—Ernst Lemmer, left, Minister for All-German Affairs in the West German cabinet, and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt are engaged in a conversation at a Berlin meeting. The officials are preparing to counter Soviet moves to force the West from the capital city.

Berlin Situation Is Topic

Adenauer Meets With Ollenhauer

BERLIN (AP)—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today held one of his rare meetings with political enemy, Socialist Erich Ollenhauer, to discuss the Berlin situation.

They met in Bonn while a U.S. military train running to West Berlin was delayed for an hour by what Communist East German officials called a broken rail.

The U. S. Army accepted the Communist explanation—mindful that the incident was similar to those used by the Soviet Union before imposing the 1948-49 blockade land routes to the isolated city were closed for "technical reasons."

The Western Powers may use the six months Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has given them to leave West Berlin to review demands for the unification of Germany by free elections.

Informants in the Communist-surrounded city said diplomats in the Western capitals were discussing a proposal to call for a big East-West conference, either on the summit or the foreign ministers level, to reopen the whole German problem.

This would include not only Berlin but German unification and a German peace treaty.

In his Thanksgiving Day note to the Western Powers, Khrushchev himself said the unification of Germany would be the best solution of all for the Berlin question. But he again insisted on the Soviet terms—a neutralized federation of the two Germans, with the Sovietized part getting a say in the Western part.

The Western Allies contend that a peace treaty can be negotiated.

Reports Claim Reds Have Nuclear Plane

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Soviet Union already is flying a nuclear-powered bomber, the magazine Aviation Week reports. It says the United States is at least four years behind the Soviet Union in this respect.

Officials of the U.S. Air Force and Defense Department withheld comment on the report.

The magazine said the Soviet bomber was completed six months ago and has been flying in the Moscow area for at least two months. Its test flights there have been observed by observers from both Communist and non-Communist countries, the magazine added.

The nuclear-powered plane is a military prototype, not just a conventional plane fitted with an experimental nuclear power plant for test purposes, the report said.

Aviation Week said the Soviet plane is powered with two nuclear engines and two conventional jet engines. Speeds were estimated at just above or below the speed of sound.

The magazine said the plane weighs 300,000 pounds, is 195 feet long and has a wingspread of 78 feet.

A major advantage of a nuclear-powered plane is that it might be flown for days or weeks without refueling.

593 Persons Die In Accidents Over Weekend

432 Persons Killed On Highways During Holiday Period

Traffic 432
Fires 48
Miscellaneous 113
Total 593

By The Associated Press
The nation's observance of the long Thanksgiving weekend was marred by a heavy death toll in violent accidents. As usual, traffic was the No. 1 killer.

The season's first major snowstorm was regarded as a big factor in a number of deaths on the highways. The cold weather also added to the number of violent deaths as a series of destructive fires took the lives of several persons, including many children.

Although the traffic death toll for the 102-hour period from 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday to midnight Sunday was high, it appeared the total was below the average for a comparable period.

No preholiday estimate of the traffic death toll was made by the National Safety Council but it said that 470 deaths on the highways could be expected in a 102-hour nonholiday weekend at this time of year.

The nation's traffic toll last year was 38,500, an average of about 105 a day. The Associated Press, for comparison purposes, made a survey in a 102-hour nonholiday weekend earlier last month and counted 394 traffic deaths. Other violent deaths for the period showed 32 in fires and 121 in miscellaneous accidents, a total of 547.

The record over-all accident deaths during a four-day holiday period was 884 set at Christmas 1956. Of the total, 707 were killed in traffic accidents.

At least four states, New York, Alabama, California and Illinois, each reported 20 or more deaths on the highways. New York led all states in total violent deaths with 36. Rhode Island was the only state not reporting any violent deaths.

Representatives of two other carriers, American Airlines and Pan American World Airways, appear in court in New York City today in labor disputes.

Pan American is seeking an injunction in State Supreme Court forbidding its employees to refuse to work overtime. The workers, 8,000 ground and flight service employees, are members of the Transport Workers Union.

A weeklong strike of 30-odd stewardesses continued against the Lake Central Airlines. Negotiators failed to reach agreement in Indianapolis Sunday. The line serves Ohio, Indiana, and parts of Pennsylvania, Illinois and Michigan.

Fire Injuries Are Fatal To Area Woman

An 83-year-old Lexington Twp. woman died in Alliance City Hospital at 4:10 a.m. Saturday, just four hours after she had been injured in a fire which broke out at the home of her son, Carl, about three and one-half miles north of Alliance at 11:55 p.m. Friday.

The victim, Mrs. Violet Warner, succumbed to injuries received in the blaze which was started by an overheated coal furnace.

Twenty men and two trucks from the Lexington Twp. volunteer fire department battled the fire for 90 minutes before bringing it under control.

Damage to the home was estimated at $6,000.

Neighbors who discovered the fire and reported it to the volunteer department removed Mrs. Warner from the burning home after finding her on the floor of the kitchen.

The home was covered by insurance.

Concert Association Enjoys Dance Jubilee

"After the Ball," the first American song to sell more than a million copies, provided one of the highlights of the "Dance Jubilee" presented Sunday afternoon by Bambi Linn and Rod Alexander and company in the Salem Junior High School auditorium.

In this second program of the 1958-1959 season of the Community Concert Association, the popular dance team headed a company of eight singers and dancers and a five-piece orchestra.

The program, spanned the field of popular music "From Minstrel Days to Swingtime."

A large crowd enjoyed the performance.

The next program in the current concert series is the Rudie Sinfonietta on Feb. 22. Jorge Bolet, pianist, will appear April 15.

Walkout Ended At TWA; Strike Still at Eastern

American, PAA Lines Present Disputes to Court In New York

By The Associated Press
Air travelers had cause for optimism today. Quick settlement of a 10-day-old machinists' strike against Trans World Airlines, one of two major lines immobilized by labor disputes, was expected.

Whether the optimism would grow or take a sour turn depended upon developments in Kansas City and New York City.

At a dinner hour recess of negotiations in Kansas City Sunday night, Cliff Miller, chairman of District 142, International Assn. of Machinists, said: "It's not a question of 'if' in getting this thing settled any more. It's a question of how soon."

Session Ended
The bargaining session ended at midnight and was scheduled to resume today. The machinists struck TWA last Nov. 21.

Eastern Air Lines, struck by the machinists and the Flight Engineers International Assn. last Monday, offered to submit many of its differences with the engineers to arbitration. The proposal was rejected.

Representatives of two other carriers, American Airlines and Pan American World Airways, appear in court in New York City today in labor disputes.

Pan American is seeking an injunction in State Supreme Court forbidding its employees to refuse to work overtime. The workers, 8,000 ground and flight service employees, are members of the Transport Workers Union.

Winds Disrupt Electric Service

Fire Destroys Large Home In Rogers

Beaver Local Schools Are Forced to Close

Strong winds during Saturday night's snow storm caused several instances of power failure in the county, Ohio Edison Co. officials report.

The gusts broke off numerous branches and blew over trees which snapped electric lines as they fell.

Some 2,000 Beaver Local School district children received an extra day of Thanksgiving vacation today because of damage to the heating systems at the high school and the new elementary building, both on Rt. 7 near Williamsport, as a result of a power failure.

All other schools in the county system are operating normally, according to the office of Supt. J. L. McBride at Lisbon.

Affected buildings in Beaver Local and the number of pupils at each: high school, 495; elementary building, 672; Calcutta, 385; Elkton, 130; Oak Grove, 58; Rogers, 138; and West Point, 135.

Power lines were blown down in Lisbon extinguishing that village's street lights and causing isolated cases of power failure to residents.

The street lights remained off from 6 p.m. until after 10 p.m. when repairmen mended the lines.

North Lima and Petersburg also were without electricity for four hours Saturday after a main cable running into North Lima was severed in two places.

No major damage was reported in Salem although some television antennas were bent over.

Police Investigate Three Car Mishaps

Cars driven by Duane O. Joy, 17, of RD 3, Salem, and Robert E. Citino, 33, of 451 Ohio Ave. collided at the intersection of Fair Ave. and E. Pershing St. at 4:29 p.m. Sunday, police said.

An auto driven by Lawrence Christopher, 23, of 783 W. State St. backed into a parked car owned by Maurice W. Covert, 56, of 769 Summit St. on S. Ellsworth Ave. at 12:55 p.m. Saturday.

An unknown auto damaged a pole at Aetna St. and S. Lincoln Ave., which held up the traffic light at approximately 4:30 a.m. Sunday.

Red Candidates Soundly Beaten In French Vote

Right-Wingers Sweep Into Firm Control Of National Body

PARIS (AP)—Right-wingers waving the banner of Premier Charles de Gaulle flattened the Communists, badly trimmed more moderate parties and swept to firm control of the new French National Assembly today.

The Communists held 22.9 per cent of the popular vote but captured only 10 of the 149 seats they had held in the last National Assembly in the man-to-man runoff elections in France Sunday.

Among the losers was the fiery Communist mouthpiece and organizer Jacques Duclos.

Topped like shooting gallery ducks were many of the ex-premiers, ministers and wheelhorses of the center parties—among them former Radical Premier Edgar Faure, Socialist disarmament negotiator Jules Moch, former Socialist Foreign Minister Christian Pineau, former Socialist Algerian administrator Robert Lacoste and former Justice Minister Francois Mitterand.

Man to Watch
Dark-browed Jacques Soustelle became the man to watch in the new Fifth Republic. It was Soustelle who eluded police, escaped to Algeria and gave political direction to the rightist movement that crumpled the Fourth Republic last May.

His Union for a New Republic (UNR) captured 32.1 per cent of the vote and 188 of the 465 seats from European France. Not since 1946, when Communists elected 174 deputies, has a party held such a large block of seats.

The conservative votes of 120 independent and peasant deputies, combined with the UNR's 188, gave the rightists a clear majority.

In addition, the 71 deputies being elected from Algeria and the Sahara were expected to support Soustelle.

The Socialists dropped from 95 seats in the old Assembly to 40, the Catholic Popular Republicans (MRP) from 74 to 44.

4 Persons Die In Mass Suicide

St. Louis Killings
Result of Sickness

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Four persons, despondent over poor health, apparently each in turn took their own lives. Their bodies were found Sunday night in a South St. Louis apartment.

The three women and a man, all related, appeared to have been dead for several days.

They were identified by a relative as Arthur Forrester, 62, a salesman; his wife, Lucille, 65; Mrs. Forrester's mother Mrs. Mary Conkling, 86, a widow; and Miss Blanche Conkling, 66, Mrs. Forrester's sister.

The bodies were found by Tilton H. Conkling, a brother of the dead sisters. After trying for several days to contact them, he entered the apartment.

Officers found several notes, some signed by individuals and at least one with the signatures of all four of the dead.

One read, "Art is not responsible for Mom and me." It was found near Blanche Conkling's body.

Forrester, a commission salesman for a cookie company, had incurable lung cancer, fellow employees and his brother-in-law said. A coworker of Forrester's said when told of the deaths, "I'm not surprised."

Mrs. Forrester earlier this year had been in a mental institution and once had attempted to cut her throat, police said her brother told them.

Homicide officers said a newspaper dated Tuesday was the latest one in the room.

Tilton Conkling said he had been trying to reach the family since a week ago Sunday. Forrester had not reported for work for 10 days.

Forrester was found sitting upright on a davenport. A .22-caliber rifle was near him. Mrs. Forrester's body was in one bedroom. Mrs. Mary Conkling and Blanche Conkling were in a rear bedroom bed.

Officers said each person had apparently been shot through the mouth.

Another of the notes said, "Sickness the reason for this." It was signed by all four.

PARTY IS CANCELED

The party for the new Sunday School Class of the First Friends Church, scheduled Tuesday night at the Newgarden Ave. home of Mrs. Laura Karns, has been canceled because of illness and bad weather. No new date for the party has been set.

Improvements Brighten Public Library

The appearance of the Salem Public Library has been brightened considerably and improvements made in the facilities of the building as the result of a modernization program completed recently.

The "new look" project was started two years ago when a new ceiling and fluorescent lighting was placed in the spacious reading room.

New ceilings, lowered from 18 to 12 feet, have been constructed throughout the library and the lighting system extended to all parts of the building. New stacks for the library's 43,000 books have been installed and the entire interior redecorated in pleasing pastel colors.

Exterior building repairs also were made. Repairs to the walk in front of the library are planned next summer.

The above pictures were taken at the library. At top, Marie Somerville of 609 Washington Ave. is waited on at the circulation desk by Mrs. Alfred Warrington, circulation assistant. The east room, where fiction and non-fiction books are now separated, shows in background.

At lower left, librarian James Hafer places a new edition in the new books display in lobby. At right, James McCorkhill, president of the library board, and Miss Mary Bowman, secretary, stand before a familiar Burchfield painting in the reference room.

Book circulation at the Salem Library is running about 12 per cent ahead of last year when the total circulation was 91,000.

John Taylor Named to Democratic Committee

John Taylor of 879 S. Lincoln Ave., a nominee for lieutenant governor two years ago, has been appointed to the state Democratic advisory committee by State Chairman William E. Coleman of Marysville.

Taylor, a personal friend of Ohio Governor-elect Michael DiSalle will serve as a committeeman-at-large. Guy Mauro of Salem was previously appointed to the advisory committee to represent the Ohio 18th congressional district.

A meeting of the committee has been called for Tuesday at Toledo to confer with DiSalle.

Ohio Lawyers Seek Release of Minister in Tax Evasion Case

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two lawyers went to court today to seek release of a contrary non-taxpayer minister they say was jailed unjustly.

The Rev. Maurice F. McCrackin entered county jail—and started a fast—last Monday after U. S. District Judge John H. Druffel convicted the pacifist minister of criminal contempt and sent him to jail indefinitely.

He said the minister could purge himself of contempt by applying to the court, saying he would sign bond and agree to voluntarily appear in court.

These requirements, his court-appointed attorneys say, are illegal and a contradiction.

The core of the contempt charge was the Rev. Mr. McCrackin's appearance in court for the scheduled arraignment session the attorney said.

Court aides had to arrest him on a bench warrant and carry him into court. He gave no help, nor any resistance. Once there, he took no part in the proceeding, answered no questions and declined to heed his lawyers.

The minister was following his vow not to cooperate in any way with court officials on an indictment charging he didn't show up for a scheduled conference on his income taxes. He said the court is "trying to coerce my conscience."

He has paid little or no income tax in the past ten years because he says it goes in part for war weapons and arms and he believes war the greatest evil.

The attorneys, Fred A. Dewey, law professor at the University of Cincinnati, and Theodore Berry moved to have the contempt order set aside.

A snowstorm last Friday forced arguments postponed to today.

The attorney's basic contention is that what started as an arraignment hearing last Monday turned illegally into a contempt trial.

In their motion, the lawyers said four rules of criminal procedure for this kind of contempt hearing were not followed. They were:

1. An order to show cause why a defendant should not be cited, or the same notice given in court.
2. A summation of the nature of the contempt charge alleged.
3. A reasonable time to prepare defense.
4. A notice of time and place of the contempt charge hearing, which should be a separate proceeding from other court moves in the case.

As for the two purging conditions set by Judge Druffel, the attorneys said they believe the minister cannot be required to do either, since he has never been ordered to sign bond and the law doesn't require a defendant to appear voluntarily in court. They say, if he agreed, it couldn't be voluntary.

As for the minister's refusal to enter a plea, the lawyers said the law gives the court power to enter a plea of innocent when a defendant stands mute.

The lawyers also said on the contempt session, there was no evidence to prove the contempt, no witness took the stand and no exhibits were admitted. The judge took over the questioning.

OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—More than 1,000 worshippers gathered in the new St. Columba's Cathedral Sunday to observe the 10th anniversary of communist suppression of the Catholic Church in Romania. Auxiliary Bishop Joseph Schmonduik of the Ukrainian Byzantine Diocese of Philadelphia preached at the mass.

MAKES ADDRESS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Walter Stuenkel, president of Concordia College in Milwaukee, made the dedicatory address Sunday for the new million-dollar Lutheran High School West, in Rocky River. The school, which has 312 pupils and 19 teachers, was begun in October, 1957, and finished sufficiently to be used five weeks ago.

Edison Co. Cites Barthalow Home For Being All Electric

The Glen Barthalow residence on the old Salem-Leetonia Rd. has been cited by the electrical industry for being the first completely-equipped electrical home in the district.

A "gold medallion" award was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Barthalow recently by Glen Harding, district manager of the Ohio Edison Co.

Mr. Harding pointed out that the new dwelling has full "house-power." The home wiring system is planned for present and future needs, it has plenty of outlets spaced evenly throughout the home and has plenty of power for appliances.

Lighting fixtures are selected for the needs of different areas. Everything is shadow free and there is concentrated lighting for reading and work areas and safety lights for closets, hallways and stairs.

It has five major electrical appliances, one rigid requirement a home must have in order to receive an award. It has a range, refrigerator, disposal unit, washer, dryer and water heater, all electrically operated.

The home has no extension cords. Outlets are spaced every so often on the walls. It is equipped with cover and valence lighting from baseboards.

It took five months to construct the all-electric home.

There is no central heating system in the home but there is a thermostat in each room which regulates temperatures to each individual's liking.

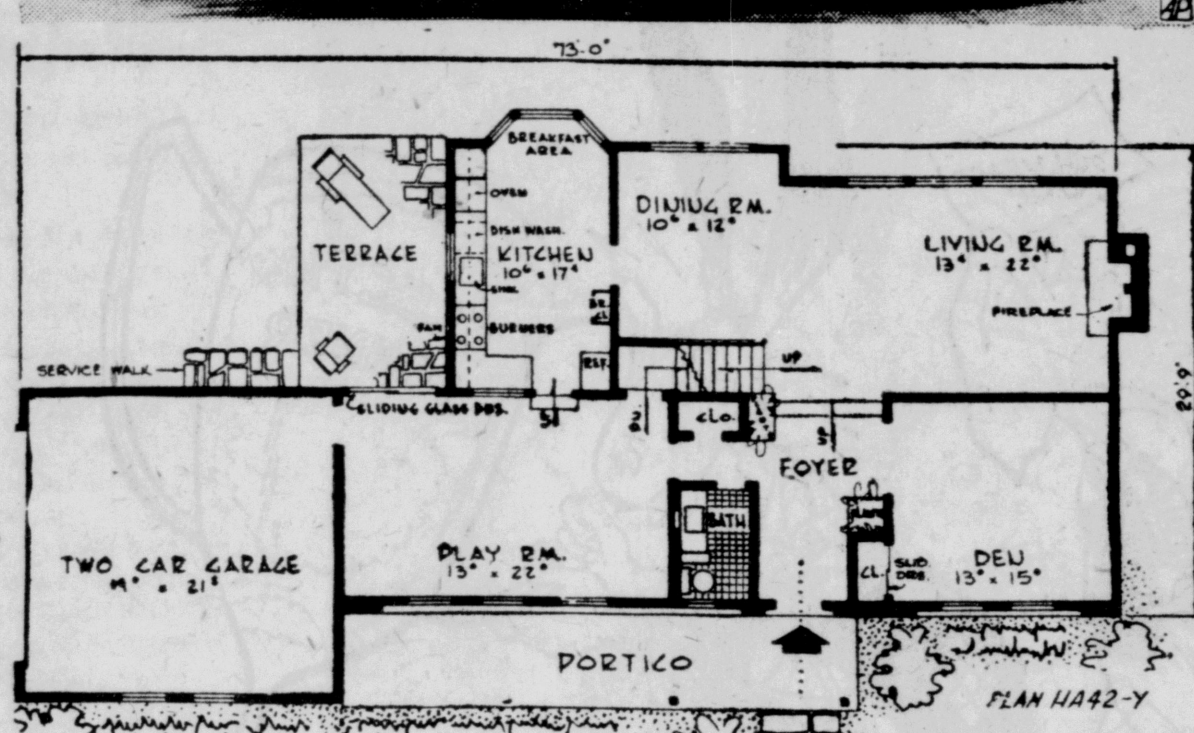

Nobody Ever Has Enough Room For Home Workshop

Nobody ever has enough room for a home workshop.

It may seem so when the workshop is first set up. But there always comes a time when space suddenly is at a premium—even when not a single new tool or machine has been added.

The "place-for-everything and fine in theory but never quite works out that way. A large step in that direction can be taken, however, when the "place-for-everything" part of the setup is so convenient and attractive that the "everything-in-its-place" portion almost naturally follows.

A demonstration of space efficiency, featuring a complete built-in workshop for the home handyman and hobbyist, is attracting thousands of persons in New York City's Grand Central station these days. Although 18 feet long and 8 feet high, this unit is so compact that it is only 3 feet in depth, thus making it potentially applicable in many places where an ordinary workshop arrangement would be impossible.

THERE ARE EIGHT ROOMS in this colonial split level, which has a habitable area of 2,093 square feet. The bedroom wing, not shown in the plan above, has space for three bedrooms; two baths and a center hall. The plan, HA42-Y, is by Architect Herman H. York, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, N.Y.

The workshop contains a multipurpose radial arm power tool, which disappears behind closed doors when not in use; a slide-out scrap box directly beneath the power tool; a hideaway tool rack which gives storage area for more than 100 small hand tools; cabinets and drawers offering 150 square feet of storage space for paints, brushes, hardware and portable tools; a drawer which houses the workshop's lathe; and two built-in vises.

A two-foot-deep workbench surfaced with tempered hardboard runs the entire length of the workshop. The sliding panels and surfaces of doors are covered with plastic laminate, while the remainder of the unit is faced with plywood with a fine furniture finish to protect it against grease and other stains.

Q—Is there a deadline for filing a claim for disability compensation with VA?

A—There is no deadline. A veteran may apply any time. However, an eligible veteran applying within a year from the date of his release from service may have his payments back-dated to the day following his release from service. A veteran who applies after he has been out of service one year may be paid only from the date his application was filed.

Q—Can a disabled Korea veteran receive vocational rehabilitation training from VA?

A—Yes. Receipt of military retired pay does not affect the eligibility of a Korea veteran with a service-connected disability to take vocational rehabilitation training. He must, however, need the training to overcome his handicap; his discharge must have been under conditions other than dishonorable; and his disability must be such as would entitle him to VA compensation if he were not receiving military retired pay.

Q—A neighbor of ours, who is on VA's pension rolls, is entitled to an additional amount of money because he is so helpless he needs constant aid and attention. Will he receive his additional allowance even though his mother provides the aid?

A—Yes. He may receive additional allowance even though a member of his family provides the necessary services. It is not necessary for him to hire an outside attendant in order to qualify for the payments.

Q—It rained so much last month that I didn't receive any flight training in the course I am taking under the Koran GI Bill. Will I still get paid my GI allowance for that month?

A—You will not receive any allowance. Under the law, allowances may not be paid for any month during which GI flight trainees receive no instruction.

Q—A neighbor of ours, who is on VA's pension rolls, is entitled to an additional amount of money because he is so helpless he needs constant aid and attention. Will he receive his additional allowance even though his mother provides the aid?

Gaslight In Yard Is Becoming Popular

Newest thing in illumination for the yard, patio, walk, drive or pool is a direct throwback to the Gay 90s.

The gaslight is making a comeback. With the exception of a very few spots in the nation, gas lamps have been an "I remember when" item for many years.

Zoning Assures Orderly Growth

Salem's new zoning law, now in effect, clearly defines and regulates future building construction and repair.

Heretofore, any hodge-podge pattern was permissible. There was no distinct separation of residential, commercial, business or industrial areas except for their existing geographical locations. Infringement or overlapping of districts had to be accepted. There was no law that controlled what could or could not be done.

Henceforth, with the zoning ordinance passed by City Council now in effect, Salem's growth can be orderly, sensible and with purpose. With the zoning ordinance as a guide, all phases of construction will fit into the over-all picture. There will be less crowding of land, greater facilities afforded for sewer and water lines and, in general, a greater interest in the welfare and safety of the people of the community.

Although the provisions of the ordinance are clear-cut, individuals have the right to appeal to a zoning board which has been appointed. Its members include City Councilmen Donald Cannon and Harold Astry, Planning Commission Members Ray Lowry and Albert Morris and two representative citizens, Mrs. G. E. Farrington and Gail Herron. A zoning officer will be chosen.

These board members are vitally interested in their community's long-range welfare and without a doubt will give Salem the benefits of their good judgment in all matters of zoning.

Big Three With a Bear by the Tail

There has to be an end to the dilemma of the man who had a bear by the tail and didn't dare to let go. One of three things happened:

1. He let go and was demolished by the bear, as he had feared he would be.
2. He let go and demolished the bear, which was contrary to what he had expected would happen.
3. He let go and he and the bear, happy to be rid of each other, went on their separate ways.

No man ever held a bear by the tail indefinitely and no bear ever permitted itself to be held by the tail indefinitely.

In the United States, Great Britain and France are not going to hang on to West Berlin indefinitely. Moreover, they are not going to hang on to West Germany indefinitely.

This cannot be said about East Berlin and East Germany, where the Communists have moved in to stay, contrary to the desires of the people who live there, no doubt. There is no likelihood of their leaving because they are unpopular, or because they are tired of staying where they are not wanted.

THE ONLY HOPE the Big Three can entertain, to offset this certainty, is that West Germany has been converted to non-Communism as completely as East Germany has been tied up by the "Quislings" who take their orders from Moscow.

In the meantime, both the West Germans and the East Germans have been doing some hoping of their own.

They are hoping for a happier day to come when all Germans can be reunited in a new Germany that will be its own master and will not be pulled hither and thither by the squabbling victors of World War II.

For a Merry Christmas

Different clubs and organizations help annually to make Christmas a little brighter for the less fortunate and none seek any credit for what they do.

Yet one group that needs an assist from the public to make its toyshop project successful is the American Legion. The Legion will have the assistance of Defense Corps members in collecting unwanted, usable toys, repairing and painting them for distribution to children of needy families at Christmas time.

Toys and games are gathering dust in many a home. A call to John Herman, chairman, or some other Legionnaire will start them on their way to the toyshop.

County Welfare Director Robert Bycroft is in charge of securing funds to brighten Christmas day for the children in foster homes and the Salvation Army and Red Cross are again planning to distribute gifts of food, clothing and toys.

Most Salemites will help.

Once Over

Top scientists have formed Institute of Climology to study affect of climate on behavior of human beings. America has plenty of weather for it, but has it enough humans? Ultimate verdict on what rain, snow and ice do to people may be surprising.

We think most odd-ball behavior is due to nothing the psychiatrists say, but to fickle weather. There are areas where man is made irresponsible by constant strain of having to decide whether to put on rubbers or trust to luck.

PSYCHIATRISTS slap man on a couch and say he beats his wife because of lack of mother love as a child. But it's more likely he has been caught out in too many blizzards or had his radiator frozen up following "fair and warmer" predictions.

Woman who plugs her man with a horse-pistol didn't get rich cream on strawberries in girlhood, psychiatrist declares. But real trouble could be she has endured New England weather all her life. Sample cases:

1. Man is emotionally unstable and village toughie. Doctor says it's due to bad company. Scientific research shows it's due to bad weather prophets.
2. Fellow neglects wife and family. People blame it on following the horses. Fact is his condition is due to following weather bureau.
3. Man talks to self, whistles at dinner table, goes to business with only one shoe on and fights with office help. Psychiatrist says it's all a matter of boyhood vitamin shortage and refusal of parents to let him take station wagon to school. Science proves his condition is due to provocative dolls as weather forecasters on TV programs. He could easily brush off the male forecasters

This is the long-range hope being held out to them by Premier Khrushchev, who seems to have made a German settlement his No. 1 diplomatic project for 1959.

He may have foreseen that the best way to start was to blast open the question of what is going to become of the Allied sector of Berlin—the "tail" the Big Three is holding.

He may have foreseen that this would induce a condition of Allied hysteria, which would get progressively worse until some far-seeing statesmen would propose that Germany be reunited as a buffer state, independent of direct intervention by both the Soviet Union and the Big Three.

That is precisely what the Soviet Union would like most, because otherwise West Germany must continue to be an Allied fortress.

That is what the Big Three would be glad to settle for eventually. They do not plan to stay in West Germany forever.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV, it would appear, has given more thought to the sequel of the bear-by-the-tail story than his counterparts in the United States, Great Britain and France. They merely have talked about getting rid of the dilemma. Khrushchev has started to do something about it.

He has caused widespread alarm by disturbing the status quo. But he also has appealed to the powerful desire of the German people to get rid of the physical presence of the Allied victors who occupied their country at the end of World War II.

The score in the latest round of the high-stakes game between the Soviet Union and the Western Allies stands at Khrushchev 1, Dulles 0.

Patience, Patience!

Snow tire sales are good in Salem and there's a reason. Without them it's next to impossible to navigate local streets when it snows heavily.

Many a motorist had a few unkind words to say about the city street department after Friday's snowstorm but he should have remembered, it was no different last winter: Snow everywhere and a few ashes and salt here and there.

The service department reports seven tons of salt and ashes distributed over the streets but this obviously wasn't enough. Snow was finally shoveled from downtown parking meter stalls Saturday.

There's little reason for Salem to become paralyzed from a winter snowstorm if the city administration gets an early start on the streets and follows through hour by hour if necessary. The state and county road crews set a good example for snow-clearing. Highways outside the city are clear.

Patience, motorists. Next time someone might think of using a snowplow.

By H. I. Phillips and escape wrong forecasts, but he hasn't strength to resist female forecasters.

GOOD LUCK to Institute of Climology! Its job will be interesting. May the scientists never become odd-balls in studies of weather and man. And we hope that they never leave important data on a windmill on a nice autumn morning and find it blown away by a olizzard inside of a half hour.

MRS. EISENHOWER says she doesn't mind being a golf widow and wants like to play golf as often as possible. She must be an extraordinary person.

Wives suffer greatly from mercurial changes in dispositions of golf-playing mates. After a bad round they can be irascible and mean. After a good score they are so happy they insist upon going over the 18 holes play by play, expecting applause and cries of "Oh, George, you're so wonderful." (Courts have held this intolerable cruelty.)

George Panetta's burlesque of psychiatry on "Omnibus" was heavy, although psychiatry is a target hard to miss. The real laugh came, however, when psychiatrist explained kid's odd conduct with "He remembers that when he was a little child, his father was big. Now that he has grown up, his father looks shorter and it has mixed him up. He has a short-father complex."

Well, You Can't Have Everything!

Our Present Revolution

By Westbrook Pegler

The "revolution" which Mrs. Roosevelt sometimes refers to with a sweetness more disturbing than beguiling seems to be a fascist-proletarian development.

The characteristics are plainer day by day. In dealing with unique movements in history, we have to use old labels until developments give existence to new and permanent terms. "Fascist" comes handy here as a provisional title for Mrs. Roosevelt's revolution because that revolution has been taken up with exuberant zeal by many millionaires, foremost among them her own late husband.

At least a thousand millionaires can be counted in the fold to the left of "center" and that is why I regard this as a fascist sort of revolution rather than as the straight, Red Marxian terror which started all this in Petrograd in 1917. Most of us forget that Mussolini's fascism was numerically more proletarian than capitalistic. It was a great popular movement. Mussolini was an idol.

AND THE FACT that millions of the lower economic classes, the common man as the Roosevelt movement called the American citizen, have joined this American revolution only rounds out the similarity to Mussolini's. Roosevelt, too, was a leader in the same sense but to a lesser degree. His wife seriously called him our "elected ruler."

Later, history may call all this

Matter of Fact

The crude New England shillings, about the size of a present-day quarter, were the first coins struck by the English colonists in America. Minted in 1652, they had the letter NE on one side and the value in pence in Roman numerals on the other. When dishonest persons started chipping the edges of the coins, their design was changed to include a circle of dots near the border. If dots were cut into, coins were not accepted.

In the United States more than half of the power (including heating of buildings) and about 60 per cent of our electricity comes from coal. To get the same amount of power from horses, each man, woman and child in the country would have to drive at least seven heavy work horses day and night, every day in the year, without a moment's rest.

The "Spanish Main" was the name given the Caribbean Sea during the two centuries following its discovery by Christopher Columbus on his first voyage to the New World. Extending from the West Indies to the country of Central and South America, the Caribbean is nearly 1,500 miles long, has a 1,049,500-square-mile area.

Although it won its place of fame in naval history during the War of 1812, the 44-gun frigate The Constitution was launched in 1797. In 1798, it was put in service against French privateers who were invading America's waters. Later it was used against the Barbary pirates. During the great sea battle off Cape Race in the War of 1812, American sailors saw British shot bound off its solid oak sides—hence the nickname "Old Ironsides."

Letters for publication should be under 300 words, as a general rule. All letters will be judged on individual merit, particularly when more than one letter is received on the same subject. No letter will be published without a signature and an address.

by some other name but now it is fascism.

The popular opinion of millionaires holds that they cherish their money above all else but that is going a little beyond known facts. They seem also to be fond of their immediate families. Some of them have also an appearance of religious devotion. However, they all do cherish their riches and for that reason we are justified in believing that the movement with which they associate themselves by activity in the Democratic party and the "modern" Republican party is one which, like Mussolini's and Hitler's, will treat wealthy men kindly unless they oppose it.

In all this, the clergy of all religions are partial to the revolution. Give or take a little, their enthusiasm is about the same as that of the common man. The revolution has done nothing to frighten them.

On the contrary, it has been guilty of informal excesses in favor of organized religion in matters of "taxation" and suppression of honest disagreement. "Bigotry" in a new meaning of an honest word has become wicked at best and almost felonious by implication.

Actually, bigotry means only intolerance of beliefs which one opposes. Thus, to forbid bigotry is to stifle the expression of opinion in a limited field. Not unambiguously but overwhelmingly, the church bodies have plumped for the union shop and the vested privilege and power of the unions, which are political societies.

SOME CHURCH DIGNITARIES have plainly lied in representing to their religious subjects that corruption in unions is only minor because only a few unions are known to be corrupt. In that false statement of the case, the Teamsters union, which certainly is corrupt, is compensating for the honesty of the Pattern Makers' league. One union is equal to another union in that scale. But the Teamsters embraces about 1,300,000 subjects whereas there are only about 15,000 pattern makers in the whole country. Most of the teamsters are subjects by compulsion. Almost all if not all of the pattern makers are members by choice.

The most cooperative revolutionary millionaires have been Averell Harriman, Nelson Rockefeller, the late Marshall Field, the late Joseph Medill Patterson, Henry Wallace, Eugene Meyer, Cyrus Eaton and Joseph P. Kennedy. Field was weird all his life and is not comparable to Meyer, a shrewd, intellectual capitalist with a highly developed self-interest. Wallace went through a radical phase but he also went through a goofy phase in which he wrote adolescent letters to an oriental guru or faker. He later turned against the guru and gave aid to the guru's enemies. Since his grotesque campaign for President on a Communist-supported ticket in 1948, he has vanished into seclusion near Ridgefield, Conn.

An agent of the Internal Revenue admitted that, by assignment from Washington, he ran up a spurious tax deficiency of about $1,000,000 against bubblehead as punishment for irreverence toward F. D. Roosevelt. The agent said the purpose was to scare Wallace and this seems plausible because, like other rich men, Henry has a very decent respect for a million dollars.

THE COMPLACENCY of ordinary vulgar political bosses further indicates that the Roosevelt revolution is fascism, not bolshevism. Kelly and Hague and Pendergast, Curley and Guffey and Wagner the elder, all stood a good chance of liquidation by a Soviet, Marxian, atheistic regime. Five are dead and gone and Guffey is politically extinct, but those men were not in any way congenial with the Muscovites of the New York focus although all sorts were uneasily associated in the smear on the slide as the mystery unfolded.

Nevertheless, this revolution. The next few years will show that the Constitution is really the most versatile scripture ever composed. It is capable of anything and everything. Literally, it can be truly and soberly construed to justify solitary confinement in Alcatraz of all infidels who express contempt for the Supreme Court or any district judge of the federal system.

Problem of Surpluses

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Chances Are We Can't Eat Our Way Out of It

Can we eat our way out of the dilemma of farm surpluses in the years ahead?

You might think the prospects good, since the Census Bureau says we'll have from 40 to 70 million more mouths to feed in American by 1975.

But the considered view of top government farm forecasters is that we won't have licked the surplus problem by then. Aids to services to agriculture take a 7-billion-dollar bite out of the current federal budget. Signs run against a sharp drop.

The experts reasoning:

The great technical revolution in agriculture shows no evidence of slowing down or stopping.

AT FIRST it was mechanical. Machines replaced men, and horses and mules. Output per man-hour shot up, and production also gained heavily from release of millions of acres from support of the "power" animals.

With World War II and its aftermath, the revolution switched course and took on greater speed. Output swung up 40 per cent between 1938-40 and 1956-57. Higher farm yields accounted for nearly half this advance.

The experts believe that by 1975 assuming only our present technical knowledge, yields will be up another 25 per cent over 1957. They also think that in that time farmers will be about 10 per cent more efficient at turning feed into pounds of livestock.

Rhtis forecast assumes many farmers still won't make use of all available improvement techniques.

And any new advances in technique would alter the picture by markedly increasing the chance that production in 1975 would run well ahead of even the heaviest imagined consumption under liberal population estimates.

Future output may be helped some, too, by a possible addition of some 30 million acres to farm use under reclamation and other public programs. But the advance in yield is the big thing.

WHAT ACCOUNTS FOR IT?

In the 1938-40 to 1956-57 span, tractors on farms tripled. Output per man-hour doubled. Fertilizer use zoomed to four times the earlier level and produced more than half the higher yield. Pest killers cut crop losses from this source from 25 per cent to 12 per cent. Bigger, more economical farms were put together. Add better seed, better animal breeding and feeding, conservation practices.

Many farmers don't use all these possibilities. Plant diseases, weeds, rats and other pests chew up 9 billion dollars' worth of crops a year. The room for improvement is vast.

That explains why the experts think 1975's added production requirements of some 40 per cent will be met fairly easily, even shifts among kinds of crops.

THEY BELIEVE THIS even while calculating not only that population will be up to perhaps 230 million, but that real incomes will have climbed about 40 per cent and individual use of foods will have gained some 3 to 4 per cent.

And they say it will all happen while the number of farm workers is dropping—continuing a long trend—from the present six million or so to around four million in 1975. For neither labor nor land is the key to farm output any more, as those have discovered who have sought to hold production down.

In the big bag the experts call the "technical reserve," the farmers found dramatic effective substitutes for the old fundamentals. With these tools they keep remaking our farm production base into something that seems always to be bigger than we need, even for the fast-growing age of 1956 to 1975.

Danger of Status Quo

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Russians and Red Chinese are now testing the United States' basic foreign policy — containment — which was thought out and started in the late 1940s.

That policy called for military alliances and bases around the perimeter of the Communist world to prevent its expansion. It worked fine so long as the Communist world was weak and trying to get organized. It's weak no longer.

The policy of containment is also essentially preservation of the status quo. And since its inception the West has been conducting a holding operation, with no new ideas.

But in a changing world, indefinite preservation of the status quo is an illusion. It's like riding up to meet onrushing events in a rocking chair. The result:

Instead of acting with new ideas, fresh approaches, the West has been reduced simply to reacting when the Communist world, Soviet or Red Chinese, has acted.

Once again it is being forced to react—this time against the greatest Soviet test of Western comment at Berlin. The Soviets want the Western powers to abandon this city which is 110 miles within Communist East Germany.

That would leave the city—already divided between West Germans and East German Communists—an island entirely within the sea of Communist East Germany. Almost certainly the city would be engulfed by communism. President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles both talk of standing firm. Whether standing firm is the answer, or whether some new ideas are needed in dealing with the Soviet Union and a divided Germany, will be clearer in the next few months.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev has given the West six months to make a deal of some kind or get out. But whatever the West does it will be acting only in response to a previous Soviet action.

And, because the Soviet Union is now strong and has at its side an increasingly strong ally in Red China, the West faces the prospect of one Soviet move after another to smash the whole containment policy.

There's been a lot of speculation on what Khrushchev is after by this sudden decision on Berlin. Equally significant, if the answer were known, is why he chose this particular time to make his thrust. If he can back the United States down on Berlin, this country's smaller allies in Western Europe not only will be shaken but will have reason to question their reliance on the United States in the cold war with the Soviet Union.

The United States, Britain and France—all with occupation rights in Berlin—are supposed to get together and answer Khrushchev in one voice.

What Khrushchev and the rest of the world are waiting to see is whether the answer shows vitality and imagination, weakness, indecision, or a repetition of old ideas now being challenged by communism.

So They Say

I was lucky to be elected governor. (President in 1960) is so ridiculous that nobody would even print it.

—Ohio governor-elect Michael V. DiSalle, on being left off list of potential presidential candidates.

I was very happy at home and never really wanted to go out. Mother looked after me very well. —Matthew Sutcliffe, 52, of Halifax, England, who went to bed with a cold in 1928 and stayed there until 1958, when his mother became ill.

I think (the Russians) definitely did observe something going on there (on the moon) and that they will produce concrete evidence. They are not people who usually shout out about something until it is an accomplished fact. —British Astronomer H. Percy Wilkins, on Russian claim of sighting erupting volcano on the moon.

Barbs

It's pretty hard to keep up with running expenses when you are a fast stepper.

It's tough enough for a man to have a financial setback without having to get accustomed to new friends.

When the modern mother wants her teen-age daughter, we'll bet she never thinks to look in the kitchen.

Every man has his share of bad breaks. It's just too bad they can't be re-lined.

Facts About Prostate Infections

A somewhat puzzling inquiry comes from Mr. T., who writes, "Is there any method of treatment for a slightly inflamed prostate gland except by operation?"

It is not quite clear whether this refers to simple enlargement of the prostate gland, which is so common in men as they grow older and which is treated by operation, or whether it refers to infection of the gland, which is not associated with enlargement.

THE ENLARGEMENT usually does require an operation, but I have discussed this recently and therefore shall assume that the question refers to prostatitis or inflammation.

The prostate (from which prostatitis gets its name) is a small sex gland lying back and near the outlet of the urinary bladder. The openings to and from it are small, so that it is a particularly good spot for the growth of germs. For practical purposes, infections of this gland are commonly classified as acute or chronic.

Acute prostatitis is often, but not always, caused by a germ called the gonococcus, which is the cause of gonorrhea. Today this can be successfully treated by antibiotics in almost all instances.

Many other organisms, however, can grow in this gland and mixtures of germs are common. Germs can invade the prostate along the urinary passageways or can be carried there by the blood stream.

THE MOST COMMON early symptoms of acute infection of the prostate are disturbances of urination, such as burning, frequency and dribbling. Pain, or a feeling of fullness, is often present.

During the acute stage absolute rest in bed and avoidance of strain is usually necessary. The application of heat, alkalizing the urine and drinking fluids freely also may be desirable. These measures are now usually less time consuming, thanks to the antibiotics.

Chronic inflammation of the prostate is a common complication of the acute variety, but because of the improved methods of treating the acute stage it is becoming less frequent.

Chronic prostatitis often produces few if any symptoms. Some patients have only a small amount of pus. Others have urinary symptoms similar to but less severe than those of the acute variety.

OCCASIONALLY local signs of prostate infection may be absent altogether. Infection there may cause difficulties elsewhere in the body such as arthritis, neuritis, muscle pains or iritis.

In order to make an accurate diagnosis, the prostatic secretion has to be obtained and examined under the microscope and perhaps tested for sensitivity to various drugs. This will reveal the germs which are responsible and what treatment to give.

A long-lasting chronic prostatitis even now is difficult to treat. Such methods as promoting drainage, prostatic massage, heat application and sometimes vaccines are used. Whatever treatment is followed, however, may take a long time and prove discouraging.

LEGAL NOTICES

On December 2, 1958, in accordance with Supplemental Section 375-13 to 21, Code of Ohio, the Ohio Soil Conservation Committee will cause an election to be held at Greenford School, 7:30 p.m., electing two (2) Supervisors to fill the expiring 3 year terms of John Allan Culler, and Delbert Zimmerman. Nominees to fill the expiring terms are: Richard Bare of Green Township; John Allan Culler of Beaver Township; Robert Hammett of Poland Township; and Delbert Zimmerman of Coitsville Township. Nominations will be accepted from the floor at the time of election or by petition submitted one week prior to election containing the signatures of 25 landowners. Only landowners and occupiers are eligible to vote.

COUNCIL OF CHURCH Women will sponsor an all-day sewing session Thursday at the First Baptist Church to make puppets for the Hospitals Auxiliary to distribute to children who are patients in the local hospitals.

Anyone wishing to assist with the project is invited. All who need transportation may call Mrs. Carey Jackson, president of the council, at ED 7-6148.

THE FIFTH GRADE at Buckeye School recently held its last meeting as Junior Garden Club members. One full year garden club work was completed under the direction of the Garden Study Club.

Materials were furnished for the students who were directed in making Christmas centerpieces and wreaths by Garden Study Club members, Mrs. William Lowry, Mrs. Leo Edwards, Mrs. Martin Roth and Mrs. G. R. Limestahl. The four children assisting were Toni Sheen, Robert Huber, Robert Peters and George Limestahl.

MRS. LESTER DAVIS of Greenford was recent hostess for the Camellia Club. Guests included Mrs. Bruce Bricker and Mrs. Ed Zilavy.

Honors in 500 were won by Mrs. Earl Cody, Mrs. Don Heim, and Mrs. Fred States.

A Christmas dinner and gift exchange will be held on Dec. 8 at Timberlanes.

MRS. AMERICUS Migliorini of W. Pershing St. entertained Unique Club recently at her home. Game prizes went to Mrs. Tullio Ciotti and Mrs. Val Ciotti. A special prize went to Dominic DeRienzo.

The Dec. 9 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Henry DeRienzo of E. 8th St.

FARR CLASS members met recently with 13 in attendance in First Christian Church. The president, Mrs. Arthur Beech, led the group in repeating the 23rd Psalm. The group will send a Christmas gift to a boy it sponsors in the Cleveland Orphanage.

The Christmas meeting, a coverdish supper, will be held at the church Dec. 23.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Cobedesh and Mrs. Mary Cline.

SALEM CAMERA Club will have its Christmas party and gift exchange Dec. 10 at the Memorial Building. Members may bring guests.

Refreshments will be served, and members are reminded to make reservations for themselves and guests with Michael Binder or Carl Juergens. Two films will be shown, "Magic Box" and "Voice Beneath the Sea."

There will be no meeting Dec. 24.

THE HOME of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Strojek Sr. of 195 S. Union Ave. was the scene of a triple celebration Thursday.

In addition to Thanksgiving, it was the Strojeks' fourth wedding anniversary and the birthday anniversary of Mrs. Strojek's mother, Mrs. Ada Baker of Mount Pleasant, Pa.

The 22 guests for dinner were from State College and Mount Pleasant, Pa., Youngstown, Warren and Salem.

FRIENDS OF Mrs. Lillie Wolgamuth of 856 E. State St. brought Thanksgiving dinner to her Thursday. They were Mrs. Charles Roberts and daughter, Harriet and Mrs. Lois Dahlke of Damascus and Mrs. Margaret Long of Alliance.

HOLIDAY ARRANGEMENTS were made at the regular meeting of the Junior Garden Club at Buckeye School, Tuesday.

Mrs. O. A. Naragon, Mrs. R. G. Fennema and Mrs. Jack C. Klein of the Salem Garden Study Club were in charge of the meeting. They were assisted by Georgia Lozier, Timmy Tullis, Wendy Fidoe and Bonnie Schneider.

The 24 members present made holiday arrangements, candles and wreaths, using pine, pine cones and miniature ornaments.

The next meeting is Jan. 27.

BETA THETA CHAPTER of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Howard Bailey of Hanover, with nine members and six guests present.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. Esther Messersmith discussed skin care. Mrs. Paul Waithman served as a model when Mrs. Messersmith showed the proper way to apply makeup. Hair styling techniques were discussed by Mrs. Roger Cope. Various hair styles were demonstrated on Mrs. Lawrence Clewell, Mrs. Robert Ward and Mrs. Isaac Skeels.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Reber Heacock. The Dec. 3 meeting will be at the New Garden home of Mrs. Jake Gerber.

Elias Howe, a Massachusetts machine operator, spent five years in his off-time to invent the sewing machine. That was in 1846.

Frances Sharp's Engagement Announced at Dinner Party

Miss Frances Gordy Sharp, daughter of Judge and Mrs. Joel Herbert Sharp of 700 Highland Ave. will be married Dec. 27 to John Robert Matthesen of Simsbury, Conn.

Judge and Mrs. Sharp announced

Miss Frances Sharp

the engagement Saturday night at a dinner party honoring the couple. Mrs. Matthesen and her son were Mrs. George Matthesen of Orange, Conn., and the late Mr. Matthesen. Mrs. Matthesen and her son were guests in the Sharp home Thanksgiving weekend.

Miss Sharp attended Salem public schools and was graduated from Walnut Hill School for Girls in Natick, Mass., and Wellesley College. She took her junior year abroad, studying in Paris.

Since her graduation, Miss Sharp has been employed on several newspapers and most recently by The Associated Press. She was recently transferred from the AP Bureau in Charlotte, N.C., to AP Newsfeatures in New York City. She has now resigned.

Mr. Matthesen is a graduate of Brown University, Providence, R.I. where he was president of Sigma Chi Fraternity. He is employed as an underwriter in the Group Insurance Department of the Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. of Hartford, Conn.

Mr. Matthesen served four years in the Air Force as a pilot in the Pacific area and in Europe. He is now a first lieutenant in the Active Reserve. He is a member of the University Glee Club of Hartford.

Miss Sharp's sisters, Mrs. George H. Dexter of Bloomfield, Conn., and Mrs. Ford F. Miskell of Shaker Heights, will be matrons of honor. Bridesmaids will include Mrs. Scott McCorkhill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Wilson, and Mrs. Peter Candall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Probst. Joel Herbert Sharp Jr. will be an usher as will Mr. Dexter and Mr. Miskell. Miss Sharp's nephew, Jeffrey James Miskell, will be ring bearer and her niece, Miss Lucia Dexter, will be flower girl.

Flatter Girl's Ego With Toiletries

A beautiful Christmas is in store for the gal who gets one or all of the beauty gifts shown here. Every one of these gifts is designed to pamper, flatter and enhance. Luxurious dusting powder is packaged (upper left) with yellow lamb's wool puff and flacon of scent-matched perfume in a set by Houbigant. Dorothy Gray does a sophisticated fragrance in concentrate and matches it (upper right) to soap for a lovely gift. Every woman loves the notion of being able to use bubble bath lavishly. She can, with Wrisley's sparkling tear-drop glass container (lower left) filled with carnation bubble bath. This is a seventy-ounce jar that can be used later to hold soap, powder puffs or candy. Dark Brilliance (lower center) is a dramatic perfume beautifully presented in a heavy crystal bottle with sleek lines and lalique stopper. Another version of dusting powder-fragrance set is this one (lower right) by Prince Matchabelli. Cologne is mounted in front of dusting powder which boasts lamb's wool puff in pale green.

ity Thanksgiving Eve service was held.

The Rev. Edward Escolme of the Damascus Friends church delivered the message, with the Rev. William Thomas of the Damascus Methodist reading the scripture and offering the prayer. The Rev. Ralph Fotia gave the invocation and benediction and also led in the singing of several hymns.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Fotia left Wednesday evening for Cleveland where they will spend the Thanksgiving holiday with his mother, Mrs. Anthony Fotia and other relatives in the vicinity. They will return Thursday evening for the rehearsal of the Greenamyer-Raybeck wedding.

Ogden Nash

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "There is an awful lot of tightrope walking in the world today," said Ogden Nash.

"There are so many sore toes that a humorist can't help stepping on a few."

When he was 10 and his older sister was about to be married, Nash composed an ode long cherished by his family. It began:

"The beautiful spring at last is here,
And has taken my sister I sadly fear."

Some 46 years, 50,000 published lines, and a million chuckles later, Nash is widely rated as America's most successful writer of light verse.

His 13 books—the latest is, "You Can't Get There From Here"—have sold nearly two million copies. With the possible exception of Robert Frost, he probably is the only well known American author who has made a living in the last quarter century from verse.

"I'm something of a freak," he admitted. "I've been lucky."

But even Nash has found it advisable to toil part-time in other vineyards. He lectures, has done two stints in Hollywood, written lyrics for Broadway shows, appeared as a TV panelist.

His latest television assignment was to write the lyrics for six songs for "Peter and the Wolf," starring Art Carney and presented Sunday over the ABC-TV network.

"The only love song was sung by a near-sighted dog to a duck under the impression she was a water spaniel," he said.

This kind of chore delights the offbeat mind of Nash, master of the kind of outrageous rhymes that tickle modern readers but give traditional poets a desire to beat their heads against a wall.

"I think in terms of rhyme, and have since I was six years old," he said.

He once almost fell in love with a lady named Mrs. Blorange. She fascinated him because of the similarity of her name to orange which, like the words silver and pilgrim, have no dictionary rhymes.

Nash began his career composing streetcar card ads at $100 a month for a firm which previously had employed F. Scott Fitzgerald in this task.

"I never wrote a car card that appeared in New York City," he said. "Just places like Chillicothe, Ohio."

Nash, a soft-voiced, hazel-eyed six footer with an habitual expression of absent-minded inquiry, is a painstaking craftsman. He turns out only one or two verses a week now, writing in pencil on sheets of yellow paper.

"I work at home because there are so many interruptions there," he remarked. "I like interruptions."

Neither the ideas nor the rhymes come easily. Writing is still hard work to him.

"The Lord doesn't usually deliver everything to you in one package as a rule," he observed dryly.

Although he has strong doubts his verses have enduring literary quality — "fashions in humor change as in everything else"—he believes "anything that is to last more than five years has to be more than merely clever."

"I like to think that behind my work there is a consistent individual point of view toward life—something more than just jokes and odd rhymes."

His viewpoint? "This is our world, and we're locked in it," he said, "and we have to learn to survive together, whether we love or admire each other or not. We must adjust to each other."

Asked if he felt any of his verse had done any enduring good for WINS PAROLE — Once the object of an international man-hunt, Hugh D'Autremont, 54, has been granted a parole from Oregon State Penitentiary. He was convicted in 1927 for murder in connection with the robbery of a railroad train. He is shown (left) at age 19 in 1923, the year of the crime, and as he looked during his parole appeal in May of this year.

the human race, Nash, a highly unpretentious man, smiled and nominated the following lines, the most widely reprinted of all he has written:

"I think that I shall never see
A billboard lovely as a tree.
Perhaps, unless the billboards fall,
I'll never see a tree at all."

Clergymen To Tour District Industries

Area businesses and industry will open their offices and plants to clergymen from the Mahoning and Shenango Valley area for visitations late in January.

The tours, a feature of the nation-wide observance of "Religion and Economic Life Week," are scheduled for Jan. 20, 21, and 22.

The Rev. William Snowball, pastor of the Salem Methodist Church, is among the many clergymen meeting this week with the to work out final details of the Industrial Information Institute program.

Last year nearly 140 clergymen from 35 communities visited 13 area companies. The visits include a tour of the firms' facilities and a conference with company officials.

Memorial Services Set by Elks Lodge

The Salem Elks Lodge will hold its annual memorial services at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Elks home when tribute will be paid to the memory of departed members, including 12 who died in the past 12 months.

The Rev. Theodore G. S. Whitney, rector of the Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, will deliver the memorial address, while Robert Conroy, an official of the Youngstown Kitchens Division of the American Standard Corp., will give the general eulogy.

Mrs. Margaret Hammell will be the soloist, accompanied by Mrs. Joseph Barnes.

Conroy's eulogy will pay tribute to the following members who died during the last year:

Elwood E. Calvin, Edward G. Cormany, Howard McDonald, Dr. Lowell W. King, Clarence L. Taylor, Edward A. Harris, Russell C. Greenawalt, Bert Wallace, W.

Edmund Peters, Matthew L. Hans, Arnold J. Greene and Paul J. Dean.

Paul Lau, exalted ruler of the lodge, will be in charge of the opening and closing ceremonies, assisted by Patrick Nocera, leading knight; Robert Schaeffer, loyal knight; Frank Earley, lecturing knight; Alton C. Fields, esquire; Edmund C. Blackburn, chaplain; and Ray Kenneweg, secretary.

Randall Bieber is chairman of the committee which arranged the services. The public is invited.

TUG LOST IN LAKE

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Scraps of a $100,000 derrick barge owned by the D. A. Dyche Salvage Co. were washed ashore from Lake Erie after the tow line had parted and the tug's engines stalled on a voyage to Rocky River from Sandusky. A Coast Guard whaleboat removed Capt. Davis A. Dyche, 31, of Lakewood and his mate, Joseph Amberik Jr., 21, of Cleveland. Heavy seas, however, prevented towing the tug, which was left an anchor north of here.

Peter Gwynne

WASHINGTONVILLE — Peter (Queen) Gwynne 74, of Boston St. died at 5:10 a.m. Sunday at Salem City Hospital after a seven-month illness.

He was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, May 15, 1884, the son of William and Agnes Hunter Gwynne.

On Dec. 10, 1904, he married Margaret Davidson at Auchterderran, Scotland.

A retired coal miner, he came to Washingtonville in 1914. He was a member of Trinity Lutheran Church, Fraternal Order of Eagles of Leetonia, and a member of the Auchterderran Masonic Order of Fifeshire, Scotland.

Surviving besides his wife, are two sons, William Gwynne of Leetonia, and Peter Gwynne Jr. of Washingtonville; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Avig of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Agnes Sunderman of Washingtonville; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral service will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Woods Funeral Home in Leetonia, with the Rev. S. D. Myers officiating.

Burial will be in Oakdale Cemetery in Leetonia.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight.

Snowfalls Prevail Throughout State

By The Associated Press

It wasn't any easier to start the car this morning.

Oh, in a few places it was a degree or two warmer, but the temperature still had a long climb from around the zero mark to the 35-degree high predicted by weathermen for the afternoon.

Close on the heels of Friday's shockingly sudden snow came a sharp drop in temperatures. Ohioans' feet hit a mighty cold floor Sunday morning as record low temperatures prevailed outside.

A minus-4 reading in Columbus came within a degree of the all-time low for November, recorded Nov. 22, 1880. The minus-4 was the lowest officially recorded in the state. Chillicothe had the same reading.

Zanesville Coldest

Zanesville had the coldest reading — minus-7.

A warm sun during the day Sunday partially thawed the well-packed snow, which varied in accumulation from 4 to 14 inches, but by late afternoon the mercury was in a power dive again and slush was becoming dangerous ice on roadways.

Snow removal crews were hard at it Sunday and today, but authorities urged the public to avoid all unnecessary driving. The advice was apparently heeded, because the traffic accident toll was low.

The forecast for today encouraged snow removal crews. In areas where the mercury climbed above freezing, it was a big break in making roadways safer for travelers.

Tuesday is also expected to start out cold, but the temperature once again is expected to move above 32 degrees, perhaps to as high as 38.

Among other problems faced Sunday were snow squalls occasionally in some areas and heavy drifting in northeast Ohio.

150 Youth At Church Rally To Fete Team

Wayne Ashbaugh, basketball coach at Mount Union College, was guest speaker at a city-wide youth program Sunday evening in the First Methodist Church in honor of the Salem High School basketball team.

Coach Ashbaugh stressed 10 moral values which he said must be present in Christian sportsmanship: Human personality, brotherhood, moral responsibility, common consent, respect for excellence, devotion to truth, spiritual enrichment, happiness, self respect and self confidence and personal organization.

The program opened with a worship service in the sanctuary. The Rev. William Snowball, president of the Ministerial Association and host pastor, led in conducting a candlelight dedication service for the team members.

Other participants included Danny Krichbaum, Jay Albright, Woody Deitch, Pinkney Hall, girls of the High School Ensemble, representatives of all cooperating churches, the Luxis Choir of the Methodist Church and Homer Taylor, organist.

John Cabas, head basketball coach at Salem High School, introduced Karl Zellers, who explained the team's cost of arms, which he designed for them.

Following Mr. Ashbaugh's talk, Mr. Cabas showed movies of last year's games, Cleveland East Tech versus Columbus North and Salem versus Youngstown South.

Refreshments were served by the members of the Methodist Men to nearly 150 youth and their counselors.

only with a sovereign al-German government freely elected, East Germany has never had a free election and for that reason is not recognized by the West.

The possibility of a high-level conference on Germany was raised further when Khrushchev declared at a Moscow reception Saturday that he would like to drink a toast again with the Soviet Union's wartime allies and discuss peacefully a Berlin solution at a "round table."

The British, French and Americans already have made clear they will turn down Khrushchev's proposal that West Berlin be made a demilitarized free city—which would be open to a Communist grab as soon as the 9,000 Western troops had withdrawn.

SMOG ATTACK BRINGS TEARS — Debbie Beltran, 2, is too small to know about smog, but she wept with the rest of Los Angeles residents as one of the year's worst smog attacks stung the eyes of the inhabitants. Wiping away the tears is Debbie's mother, Mrs. Josephine Beltran.

ists, a slightly right of center group, declined from 71 to 26 and even this remnant was split into feuding factions. One of the party's leaders, ex-Premier Pierre Mendes-France, was eliminated in the first round of voting last Sunday.

Ten deputies were elected from overseas territories. With the 71 from Algeria and the Sahara, the Assembly will total 546.

A new premier will be named after the electoral college picks a new president of France Dec. 21. De Gaulle is certain to get the presidency, but there has been some speculation that he might use his influence to keep Soustelle from the premiership.

Socialist leader Guy Mollet and MRP leader Pierre Pflimlin, both ministers of state in De Gaulle's present Cabinet, likely will head the opposition in the Assembly.

The new Assembly will meet first in January, for a short session.

The right-wing sweep went far beyond the desires of De Gaulle, who refused to lend his name officially to any party or candidate in an effort to remain above politics. He had hoped for a more balanced representation of moderates to effect a liberal settlement of the four-year nationalist rebellion in Algeria.

County Election Board To Award Contracts

The County Election Board will meet Tuesday to award contracts for ballots and poll books for a special election Dec. 30 in the Beaver Local School District.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said ballot bids have been received from Keystone Printing Co. and Wilson Printing House, both of East Liverpool, and Dodge Publishing Co. of Salem.

The Columbus Blank Book Co. and Heer Printing Co., both of Columbus, and Johnson-Watson Printing Co. of Dayton have submitted bids for poll books.

The special election is on a combination $220,000 bond issue and half-mill levy which, if approved, would enable the district to qualify for $326,000 in state aid. Voters turned down a similar proposition at the Nov. 4 general election.

County Highways Are Reported Clear

County employees worked Sunday helping township trustees clear the roads over which school buses must travel.

County crews this morning cleared some highways which became icy after thawing Sunday, Neil said.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

If you peered real sharply through the murky atmosphere surrounding Richard Nixon's visit to foggy old London town, you could have seen his presidential strategy showing. No man ever did the course between the Savoy, the Strand, Buckingham Palace, the Embassy and the Grosvenor Square in fewer available hours — yet at the last minute conservative Dick Nixon added talks with British labor leaders to his schedule.

This marked the beginning of the vice president's shift to the left-of-center of his old friends in the GOP.

It was the start of a neutralizing public relations campaign to scrape off the ultra-conservative label the American labor chiefs have plastered on him.

The drive will pick up speed and lose the subtlety of the maneuver in Britain as Nixon organizes his forces for the 1960 national Republican convention.

There are those in Dick Nixon's joint chiefs of strategy who believe this tactic is the only way to head off Nelson Rockefeller. For there are few who do not believe that the New York governor-elect is a candidate for the presidency in '60.

FURTHERMORE, strange as it seems now, Mr. Rockefeller will have such a friendly reception in labor circles during the next two years that he will arrive at the GOP national nominating conclave with the reputation for being the only Republican who can win union members' votes.

This is not as odd as it sounds. Insiders, who are scientists in the political laboratories, reason it this way:

You must start with the fact that the practical politicians inside labor need some Republican officials as friends — to prove that labor is bi-partisan. Otherwise labor can be as badly hurt in the next national election as it was successful in the recent one.

In the highest labor circles today, as they analyze the past poll, they are gleeful over their whop-ping victory — but disturbed, too. They acknowledge to themselves that it is not politically healthy to be branded as the "boss" of the Democratic party.

They know that they are the balance of power bloc, and even the dominant force, in some areas, right across the U.S. Except for the South, of course. Even there they supplied the money and manpower for effective campaigns against the few influential Republicans.

ALL THIS was obvious to the staff of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE) when it met the day after election to tally its score card. These technicians realized then what their national leaders began discussing later.

When the new Congress convenes, there will be a huge bloc of lawmakers who owe their election to the labor machinery. There is no doubt that the Republicans will make much of this.

The labor leaders don't want the "boss" label pinned on them. They know, and they are saying to each other, that the American people always vote against what appears to be a suddenly successful or suddenly aggressive power bloc.

The only way to dissipate this is to find Republicans whom they can support — and who will work with them in the years between.

Unless success spoils Nelson Rockefeller, he is one such Republican. Already the labor leaders are praising him. Already some of them have conferred with members of his braintrust.

Already there is believable talk that he will name some of the labor chiefs, or their aides, to state offices and commissions. He does plan to name several Liberal Par-

SCOURGE OF GRASS — Johnson Grass, a parasitic weed unknown to Midwest farmers a decade ago, threatens to spread its deadly growth over a wide area of the nation's bread-basket. ty and New Deal Democrats to himself on the outside in this race unless he changes his running silk for more homespun cloth.

Thus the labor people would be able to point to bi-partisanship. Mr. Rockefeller could stake out the middle-of-the-road, which is the real inside track at conventions. And Richard Nixon might find

Listing of New Books at Salem Public Library

Frances Parkinson Keyes has written another novel of Louisiana during the twenties. In "Victorine" she returns to the setting of her famous "Dinner at Antioch" for a deftly handled tale of two young people very much in love.

C. W. Aram gained eminence in the field of Archology with his book, "Gods, Graves, and Scholars." Now he has another study, "March of Archology," which presents man's past in lively text and outstanding pictures.

FICTION

"Return of the Stranger" by Dorothy Roberts. This historical novel takes place in pagan Ireland and tells of the beautiful Elin whose marriage to the High King of Ireland is ended by a fateful chess game.

"Un married Sisters" by Dale Fife. A sequel to "Weddings in the Family," this book tells more about the Houk family in Ohio during the early 1900's. It is a rather poignant picture of a mother's concern for her three growing daughters.

"Crescendo" by Phyllis Bentley. When Peter Trahier left his desk for a short while in order to further his political career, he set off a chain of events involving his family as well as innocent bystanders.

"Big Gamble" by G. H. Cope. Another Kent Murdock mystery in which the news photographer becomes involved with a group of thugs, a blonde, and the usual murders.

"Our Man in Havana" by Graham Greene. An unusual mystery that depends as much on character study and mood as upon action.

"The Inseparables" by Mary Bancroft. The story of the Kinnicut family, their children, and their friends in the swank summer colony of East port from 1929 to the present.

"The Insider" by James Kelly. Another advertising agency executive writes about events in Madison Avenue and the effect of these events on the people who work there.

NON-FICTION

"Book of Pottery" by H. V. Poor. How to make and decorate pottery and ceramic sculpture with special information on the artistic factors involved as well as the mechanics of working with clay.

"Great Chicago Fire" by Robert Cromie. An hour by hour account of the great tragedy of 1871 which separates fact from legend and vindicates Mrs. O'Leary's cow.

"Great West" edited by Charles Neider. A portrait of the Old West in terms of the men who saw it, who conquered it, who searched for gold or raised cattle, or fought Indians in it. Contemporary illustrations add to the beauty of the book.

"Treasury of Art Masterpieces" edited by Thomas Craven. 161 full color illustrations and 489 black and white reproductions of the most famous works of art from the Renaissance to the present.

"Autobiography" by Mark Van Doren. The life story of the respected poet and teacher whose interests have taken him all over the world and who has had such influence on the development of contemporary literature.

"Life of Christ" by Bishop Fulton J. Sheen. A new treatment of the life of Christ by one of America's best known Catholics who spent over ten years in scholarly research.

"American Heritage Book of the Revolution" edited by F. H. Plumb and Bruce Lancaster. A scholarly account of the Revolution written for easy reading. It has many illustrations and maps, and a special pictorial section on equipment, uniforms and weapons.

"Abandon Ship" by R. F. Newcomb. The Indianapolis was torpedoed during the last war, but official Navy records never showed the loss of the vessel. This book combines the story of the sinking with an expose of the negligence of the Navy Department, and material on the resulting trial.

Carpenter, Plum Lead Browns Over Washington 21-14

Redskins Hold Brown In Check

Soph Quarterback Scores Winning TD

CLEVELAND (AP) — Philadelphia and New York—the next two opponents for Cleveland — now know the Browns' offense consists of more than the running of Fullback Jim Brown.

Quarterback Milt Plum and Halfback Lew Carpenter led the Browns to a come-from-behind 21-14 triumph over the Washington Redskins Sunday.

The Washington defense put the brakes on the record — busting Brown, holding him to a measly dozen yards in 11 attempts. It dropped his game average from 137 to 124 yards.

Plum and Carpenter were the heroes as the Browns held on to their lead in the Eastern Division of the National Football League.

The sophomore quarterback from Penn State connected on 10 passes, including a 29-yard scoring aerial to Ray Renfro. He gained 206 yards through the air and 23 on the ground. Plum also scored the winning TD, diving across from one foot out with just about two minutes left on the clock.

Carpenter gained 95 yards in 13 running attempts, scored the second touchdown and set up the final drive with three runs totaling 54 yards.

Coach Paul Brow had a simple explanation for Cleveland's offense:

"They played us tight so we were able to throw the ball. Milt did a good job."

Brown also had praise for Carpenter, the veteran Cleveland obtained in a trade with Detroit a year ago. "He's a big timer and makes the big plays."

The coach said he wasn't too interested in Brown's low yardage.

"We won and I know that's what Jim is interested in, too. They have to gang up on him to stop him and that leaves something open."

The Browns trailed 14-7 as the fourth quarter opened and looked as cold as the 16-degree temperature. The 33,240 hardy fans who braved the frigid weather soon warmed up as Cleveland put on its rousing fourth quarter finish that counted two TDs.

The victory kept Cleveland one game ahead of the New York Giants. The last two games, including the final one with the Giants are away from home.

Plum engineered the final two scores. One drive included passing gains of 45 and 38 yards as the Browns swept 91 yards in just five plays.

One of the secrets of Plum's smooth performance in the second half may have been his sure footing. He donned basketball-type sneakers in the dressing room at halftime. It made a difference.

"I began to slip around out there," Plum said. "The field must have frozen up."

"So I decided to try the rubber-soled shoes. It made the footing much better. Probably helped my passing."

One of the key runs of the game was Plum's 22-yard sweep to the Washington 37. The score was tied 14-14 at the time and the Browns had just received a 15-yard penalty. Carpenter gained 27 yards on the next play, then went for 7 more on a blast up the middle. Two plays later, Plum hung on the ball and dove over from the 1-foot line.

Big 10 Cage Teams Braced for Openers

By The Associated Press

Purdue and Northwestern, co-favorites for the Big Ten basketball title, and Indiana's defending champions open the season tonight with Iowa and Michigan.

Before the week ends, all ten conference teams will have seen action in preparation for the championship race which begins Jan. 3.

Purdue and Northwestern received their high pre-season ranking because both retained their starting lineups from last season when the Boilermakers finished in a tie for second with Michigan State and Northwestern was fourth, one game behind the runners-up.

Purdue has probably the toughest test of the five teams playing tonight. The Boilermakers will be at Kansas State while the four others are home.

Northwestern entertains Drake Michigan, Indiana is host to Drake, Iowa takes on Colorado and Michigan meets Pitt in Ann Arbor. Tuesday's action finds Butler at Illinois and Marquette at Wisconsin while Ohio State opens at Pitt Wednesday night.

All 10 teams play Saturday with Michigan entering the weekend Kent tournament at Kent State University in Kent, Ohio.

Big Ten teams will be playing all over the nation and in various holiday tournaments before getting down to serious business of the championship campaign.

Sports Sketches

By GORDON ARNETT

The Salem High School basketball team split in their efforts last Saturday night at the cage preview held in Alliance.

In the first 10-minute fray the Quakers lost to Alliance 11-9 but in the second encounter they won over Kent Roosevelt 17-11.

Canton South failed to appear at the preview so in the first game of the night Roosevelt played Alliance with the former beating the Aviators 21-7.

Coach John Cabas used but six men in each contest. He started Lou Slaby, Clyde Marks, Woody Deitch, Dan Krichbaum and Dave Hunter. Jim Lehwald was the only sub used in both tilts.

Lehwald came in for Hunter against Alliance and then Hunter came back in for Krichbaum.

AGAINST ROOSEVELT, Lehwald went in for Marks and then Marks went back in for Hunter. Slaby and Deitch were the only cagers for Salem who went the full 20 minutes.

Salem took a 1-0 lead over Alliance but fell behind 5-1. They never did catch up again. They trailed 8-3 and 11-5 at two different stages before coming back to within two just prior to the conclusion of the contest.

With Kent, Salem took a 2-0 lead and then stretched it to 6-3 and later to 10-6. Kent then scored five straight points to move in front 11-10 but the Quakers came back with seven markers of their own to end all scoring.

Against Alliance, Salem made only four of 18 shots but hit on eight of 20 against Kent. This is a percentage of 22 and 40, respectively.

Salem got four offensive rebounds and eight defensive ones against Alliance and four offensive and five defensive with Kent. The Quakers lost possession five times against the Aviators on bad passes and committed the same type error twice with Roosevelt.

I believe that Salem's showing in the preview is no indication of what the team will perform like during the season to come. It was only a preview and as such can not be taken to heart as a sampling of what to expect.

IN SO FAR as the Quakers were even in their efforts, it is not fair to criticize them for losing nor is it justified to praise them for winning.

I think the only approach a Salem fan could use from having seen the Quakers Saturday would be one of being purely objective about the preview per se and stopping right there.

For the benefit of you that did not brave the seven above zero temperature here are my own personal and objective observations of what happened.

Salem's few bad points were in their passing and general ball handling. Several times a man would be in the clear but a sloppy pass curtailed a receiver's effort for a bucket.

Salem rebounded well defensively and attacked fast on offense. They showed the potential of having a highly effective fast break.

Both Alliance and Kent were forced to shoot from the outside. Salem's tight man-to-man checking did not allow their foes any cheapies from in close.

The Quakers threw up a pressing type defense by checking all over court but it could have been more effective than it was.

AGAINST ALLIANCE the Quakers missed hordes of shots right under the basket but when a team doesn't hit what can you do.

Salem started cold against Alliance whereas the Aviators had played 10 minutes right before that with Kent. By the same token Kent was cold when they came back against Salem after the Quakers had tangled with Alliance.

The Quakers came down the floor on offense and stationed themselves well prior to setting up a pattern. They screened well and looked for that man in the open. On other occasions, the club would piddle around on the outside with the ball rather than concentrating on a determined effort to work it into Mr. Slaby.

The cagers wore two different types of uniforms. One was all black with knee-high socks. The other was black pants with white jerseys. I imagine the white jerseys go with white pants but Salem had to change jerseys following their first game since Kent was wearing black also.

Only eight more days till the Quakers begin their 18-game schedule at home Dec. 9 against Struthers. All but five of the tilts are here. The only away games are Columbiana, East Palestine, Warren, Sebring and East Liverpool.

Clemson 3 TD Underdog To Bayou Tigers

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Sugar Bowl Committee promises a tough battle between Clemson and Louisiana State on New Year's Day. But Clemson's selection to face the nation's No. 1 team has left many football fans with a saccharine taste.

The twice-beaten South Carolina outfit accepted a Sugar Bowl invitation Saturday after trimming outmanned Furman 36-19 for its eighth victory. LSU, unbeaten and untied and almost untied in 10 games, walked into the Sugar Bowl after clobbering Tulane 62-0 the previous Saturday.

LSU now is rated a three-touchdown favorite.

Many said Clemson can't contain the talented Bayou Bengals from Baton Rouge, considered one of football's most explosive teams in recent years.

The critics cited Clemson's defeats by South Carolina and Georgia Tech, comparatively soft touches this season. Clemson also was unimpressive against Furman last Saturday. The Atlantic Coast Conference champions had a 30-0 halftime lead but Furman pushed across three touchdowns in the second half and actually edged Clemson in first down during the game.

There were reports that the Sugar Bowl had all but selected Clemson some weeks ago. The logic behind that argument was that the Sugar Bowl was hampered by Louisiana's 1956 segregation law which required separate seating facilities for white and Negro spectators.

Moore, Unitas Lead Baltimore To 35-27 Victory Over 49ers

By The Associated Press

Lenny Moore's choreography and Johnny Unitas' script writer fashioned a brilliant last act as the Baltimore Colts won their first Western Conference championship in the National Football League.

The come-from-behind Colts did it the hard way Sunday, striking for 21 points in the final quarter and defeating San Francisco 35-27. At the same time, the runner-up Chicago Bears were eliminated as they lost their first game ever to Pittsburgh, bowing 24-10.

Moore and Unitas turned in first rate performances as Baltimore (9-1) captured its first crown since entering the league in 1950.

With little more than 11 minutes remaining, the Colts still trailed 27-21 after scoring at the outset of the final period. Moore stepped front and center. He danced down the sidelines, cut back to the center of the field, then forged straight ahead to complete a 73-yard maneuver that tied it. Steve Myrha's conversion put Baltimore ahead.

A fitting climax saw Unitas still sheathed in an aluminum harness to protect his injured ribs—pass seven yards to Ray Berry for an insurance tally. It was the 23rd consecutive game in which Unitas has thrown for a TD, tying Cecil Isbell's NFL record.

The battle for the Eastern Division title remained tight as first place Cleveland defeated Washington 21-14 and maintained a one-game lead over runner-up New York. The Giants beat Philadelphia 24-10 and seem headed for a showdown with the Browns in New York Dec. 14—the last day of the regular season.

In the only other game, Los Angeles defeated Chicago's Cardinals 20-14. Detroit and Green Bay played Thanksgiving Day.

The 49ers took a 27-7 lead in the first half, mainly on the passing of veteran Y. A. Tittle. The only Colt score in the half came on a three-yard plunge by Unitas. Two short scoring bursts by Alan Ameche, capping drives spearheaded by Unitas' pinpoint aerials brought the Colts within striking distance. Then Moore took over.

Bearcats to Play Indiana State

Xavier Will Begin Season on Tuesday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Highly-touted Xavier and Cincinnati, basking in the national spotlight, lead Ohio's college basketball teams into early season action this week.

The talent-laden Cincinnati schools give the home folk a chance to see their potent squads in comparatively easy tuneups. UC, with the fabulous Oscar Robertson at the helm, entertains Indiana State tonight.

Xavier, the Cinderella team that swept the National Invitation Tournament last March, hosts John Carroll on Tuesday.

Almost all the Buckeye colleges, including Ohio State, Dayton, Miami, Toledo, Bowling Green and Ohio U., open their 1958-59 campaigns this week. Some, including Wilmington, Cedarville, Sio Grande and Wilberforce, have already played.

Cincinnati, which pins its hopes for a national championship on the all-around brilliance of Robertson, gets a stiffer test Thursday when New York University is the competition at Madison Square Garden.

Robertson, on everyone's all-America team last year, set the basketball world agog with a 35.1 points per game average, best in the national. The Bearcats have most of last season's players back again to help out.

Coach Jim McCafferty has his three top scorers returning at Xavier. Joe Viviano, Ducky Castello and little Hank Stein, who figured so prominently in the NIT title victory over Dayton, are expected to make the Musketeers one of the nation's best independents.

Ohio State has a new coach and some new players but might find the early season going a bit bumpy. Fred Taylor, former freshman coach who succeeds Floyd Stahl, gets a look at his Bucks Wednesday when Ohio visits Pittsburgh. Larry Huston, Joe Roberts and Dick Furry give the Buckeyes good rebounding strength and 6-4 soph Larry Siegfried of Shelby has the potential. Ohio's home opener is Saturday against rugged St. Louis.

Dayton opens Wednesday at home in a breather against Gustavus Adolphus. Coach Tom Blackburn has two standouts—Frank Case and Terry Bochkorn—and some good-looking sophs but the Flyers lost three front-ends and will find it tough matching last year's 25-4 record.

Bowling Green, once a national power, is the pre-season pick to dethrone Miami as Mid-American Conference champs. Jim Darrow and Jim McDonald are the pacesetters.

After the Falcons open at home Tuesday against Hillsdale (Mich.) they travel to Oxford Saturday for an all-important clash with Miami.

The Redskins, minus Wayne Embry and John Powell, are not as formidable as in past years. But the team has good height and a good shooter in Jim Thomas. Miami hosts Eastern Kentucky in its opener tonight.

Another Mid-American hopeful is Ohio U. with three good scorers back and Bunk Adams, an all-Ohio soph from Toledo Macomber. The Bobcats open at home Thursday against Marietta.

In some other top contests Youngstown is at Kent State tonight in the opener for both; Akron hosts Westminster Saturday; Toledo entertains Baldwin-Wallace tonight; Ohio Northern is at Heidelberg Wednesday; Steubenville plays Burlington, Vt., tonight and Mount St. Marys Tuesday in road games and Muskingum plays Western Reserve at New Concord tonight.

Bayou Tigers In Fifth Appearance

LSU Eyes First Sugar Bowl Win

By The Associated Press

Bowl-bound college football teams began pointing toward post season games today. But one couldn't blame Louisiana State, California and Syracuse for showing more determination than the others.

LSU, the nation's only major undefeated and untied team, will make its fifth appearance in the Sugar Bowl. The Bayou Tigers have yet to win a bowl game.

This will be their sixth bowl trip, fifth to the New Orleans classic. Clemson, LSU's opponent, will be playing in the Sugar Bowl for the first time, but has a 3-2 record in other bowl competition.

California is 2-4-1 in the Rose Bowl. Iowa, the Bears' New Year's Day foe, has a 35-19 victory over Oregon State in 1957 to show for its only outing in Pasadena.

Syracuse, which meets Oklahoma in the Orange Bowl, has had only one previous experience in that game. It emerged with a 6-6 pasting by Alabama in 1953. Oklahoma has won its last three in the Miami Jan. 1 game after losing to Tennessee in 1939.

This is the way the major bowl picture shapes up:

Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif. — Iowa (7-1) vs. California (7-3).

Sugar Bowl at New Orleans — Louisiana State (1-0) vs. Clemson (3-2).

Orange Bowl at Miami. — Oklahoma (9-1) vs. Syracuse (8-1).

Cotton Bowl at Dallas — Texas Christian (8-2) vs. Air Force Academy (9-0-1).

Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla. — Florida (6-3-1) vs. Mississippi (8-2).

Among the minor bowls, Hardin Simmons (6-4) won the Border Conference title Friday and was named to oppose Wyoming (7-3), the Skyline champ, in the Sun Bowl.

Clemson earned a shot at Louisiana State by defeating Furman 36-19 Saturday. The Air Force Academy accepted a Cotton Bowl bid after whipping Colorado 20-14. Mississippi blanked Mississippi State 21-0. Florida edged Miami 12-9.

Army, which frowns on post-season competition, put away its first unbeaten season since 1949 by licking Navy 22-6. The Cadets, with only an Oct. 25 tie with Pittsburgh to mar their record, finished strong against the Mid-dies.

Auburn, second to LSU in the current Associated Press rankings but banned from bowl play, nipped Alabama 14-8; Southern Methodist beat Texas Christian 20-13; Oklahoma defeated Oklahoma State 7-0; and Notre Dame came from behind to beat Southern California 20-13.

Warriors Net 103-100 Win Over Knicks

By The Associated Press

Lennie Rosenbluth, the lanky former All-America scoring whiz from North Carolina, has been a mere benchwarmer with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Assn.

In his first pro season a year ago, he averaged about four points a game. The latest NBA statistics show him with a 3-point average and five minutes played each game.

Sunday, however, Rosenbluth produced when the Warriors needed him. He scored four points in the final 37 seconds and Philadelphia nailed a 103-100 victory over the New York Knickerbock-ers.

Rosenbluth dropped in a long one-hander and two free throws to enable the Warriors to snap a two game losing streak. Woody Sauldsberry paced the Warriors with 25 points while Richie Guerin led New York with 28.

In another NBA game, Elgin Baylor, an All-America last year at Seattle, paced a fourth quarter drive that carried Minneapolis to a 84-77 triumph over Cincinnati Sunday night.

Baylor tied the score at 68all with a jump shot and a basket by Boo Ellis sent the Lakers into the lead. Baylor finished with 21 points. Dave Piontek had 22 point for the Royals who have lost 15 of 18 games.

Saturday night, the Lakers beat Syracuse 108-105. In other Saturday games, New York defeated Philadelphia 115-103, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 98-86 and Boston turned back Detroit 110-96.

Maxim, Phillis Slated To Play In Bowl Tussle

Henry Maxim and Larry Phillis, former Salem High grid stalwarts and now members of the Santa Monica City College Corsairs football team in California, are definitely going to play in the Junior Rose Bowl game.

Bowl officials today named Santa Monica and Northwestern Oklahoma A&M as the foes in the junior version of the Rose Bowl. The game will be played in Pasadena Saturday, Dec. 13.

Maxim and Phillis helped the Corsairs to an undefeated season. Both the Santa Monica team and the Golden Norsemen of Oklahoma compiled 9-0 records this past season.

The Norsemen in fact have an 18-game victory string going.

The Corsairs qualified for the Junior Rose Bowl by being unbeaten champions of California's Metropolitan Conference.

Lutsch Paces Junior Saxons To 79-58 Win

The Salem Junior Saxons basketball team had no trouble Saturday night on the junior high floor as they easily defeated Ellwood City, Pa. 79-58 in a Penn-Ohio Sax-on League game.

Big Bo Lutsch paced the locals by rimbolling 14 field goals and four charity tosses for 32 points. Wayne Harris aided him by following Lutsch in the scoring column with 18 points. Other Salem scorers were Jerry Binder with 12 and Martin Lutsch with 11. Fitz Roth canned six markers to round out Salem's list of point producers.

The locals led 47-34 at the half and 58-47 after three frames.

Baxter and Fitch with 17 and Shass with 15 were high for the Pennsylvanians.

Boosters To Meet Tuesday Evening

The Boosters Club will meet on Tuesday night at 7:30 on the second floor of the Memorial Building. It will be the first meeting for the new 1959 officers who were elected two weeks ago.

All club members are urged to turn in their receipts from the sale of football banquet tickets. Tickets for the public will stay on sale at Fisher's News Agency, Heddleston's Drug Store, Hoppes Tire Service and Kresges until Friday. The football banquet will be held Saturday night at 6 in the high school cafeteria. Head grid coach Earle Bruce will be the main speaker.

New Milford, Conn. — Chico Vejar, 160, Stamford, Conn., knocked out Henry Jones, 162, Washington, D. C. 4.

COLUMBIANA

$6,130 Received For Chest; Short of Goal

COLUMBIANA — Returns which have slowed to a slim trickle have pushed the 1958 Community Fund campaign to $6,130, but all indications are that the drive will miss the goal of $7,100.

Gayl Gloss, chairman of the campaign which began two weeks ago and which organizers hoped to conclude in one week, said only a few canvass teams have not turned in their collections, and does not expect the late additions to make a great difference to the total.

Individuals overlooked in the canvass are asked to call Gloss, Russ Lindsay or George Huk, who will see the contribution is picked up.

THE YOUNGSTOWN Players drama troupe will present the Pennsylvania Dutch comedy "Popa Is All," as the program feature for the Rotary Club "Ladies Night" this evening at Valley Golf Club. George Keller is program chairman.

Officers will be elected at the Columbiana Booster Club meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the high school building, William Allen, current president, will conduct the session. The nominating committee includes Ray Spiker, chairman, Wilder Foerch and R. Grant Bevington.

TOWASI CIRCLE of the Presbyterian Church will hold its annual Christmas party at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the church. Officers will be installed and a gift exchange will be featured.

The program has been arranged by Mrs. Florence Campbell and Mrs. Marjorie Barber. Devotions will be led by Mrs. Ruth Esterly. Hostesses are Mrs. Muriel Crawford, Mrs. Alice Kyser, Mrs. Ruth Lehman, Mrs. Esther Fisher and Mrs. Margaret Gibson.

Mrs. W. H. Kunkle has been re-elected for a third term as president of the Dorcas Class of Grace United Church. Officers chosen to serve with her are Mrs. Margaret Ferrall, vice president, and Mrs. Bertha Sittler, secretary-treasurer.

MRS. JENNIE HUM of Lakewood and her sister, Miss Sylvia Hofmaster of Youngstown were guests in the Wilmer Yarian home over the weekend holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Color, of Niles and Mr. and Mrs. Warren

Chain were Thanksgiving dinner guests in the Ed Color home. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fullerton were hosts for a Thanksgiving dinner. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Dick Thayer and Cheryl and Candace of Magnolia, and Mrs. Katie Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luxford and three children of La Crosse, Wis. spent several days with Mrs. Luxford's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynus Schaffer, Mrs. Margaret Brungard and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baker spent four days this week with Mrs. Brungard's family. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown of Boone, N.C. Mr. Brown has a year's leave of absence from his teaching duties in W. Miami, Fla., and is attending the Boone, N.C. Teachers College.

The marriage of Peter H. Grossen of New Waterford and Mrs. Helen Donaldson of E. Palestine, was solemnized on Nov. 22 at the Emanuel Lutheran parsonage at New Springfield. They will reside in New Waterford.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gersherth who have resided in the Elizabeth Fernal Apt. on Duquesne St., have moved to Poland where Mr. Gersherth is employed in the A&P Market.

MR. AND MRS. NORMAN Young have as guests their daughter and family, Capt. and Mrs. R. A. Greenberg. Capt. Greenberg will leave for service in Korea on Jan. 1st, but his family will remain here and reside at 555 N. Main St. They have been at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Calvin of Woodland Ave. have as guests their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Madison of Palo Alto, Calif. Weekend guests in the Fannie Fellers home were Thomas Edwards, of Bowling Green and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Sponseller of Canfield.

A capacity crowd attended the Thanksgiving services Wednesday evening at the Nazarene Church; and 156 attended the Thursday morning services at the Lutheran Church.

Among the college students who were home for the Thanksgiving holidays are Karen and Sam Douglas, Donald Fellers, Beverly Bock, Martie Anderson and Gary Wilms.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Moore of Fullerton, Md. were guests in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. A. An-
